

Perennial Astrology

An Enlightened View of an Ancient Tradition

Anna Swora

Sunday, March 19, at 2:00 pm

Can astrology deepen and enrich our understanding of the spiritual life? Anna Swora believes that it can. In the process of her own psychological and spiritual journey, Anna discovered a system of chart interpretation which incorporates an individual's own healing and therapeutic process. For Anna, the goal of an astrological reading is to reveal the unconscious drives (psychological complexes) which may influence behavior within relationships— not only our relationships with others, but more significantly with ourselves. As an astrological counselor and educator, Anna has been able to apply this method of interpretation to the charts of her clients for over 25 years.

Working as an educator and certified Transpersonal Counselor, Anna has found these unconscious drives (complexes) can sometimes take on a life of their own—even “possessing us” at times. Thus the uncovering of these complexes, and the healing process that can follow, often leads to a greater self-awareness toward psychological and spiritual growth. The astrological chart can be an effective tool for exploring this deeper terrain, and can lead to the experience of a soul-level transformation. Anna also incorporates the 8 aspects and 12 attributes of Dr. John Amoroso's “Perennial Path” into her readings. Thereby each aspect and attribute can be found in an individual's chart providing openings and goals for growth, promoting movement toward a more purposeful/spiritual life.
